

The Story Mountain

For literacy this week, we will be doing our independent writing. Your task for today is to plan your story using the story mountain plan. Your story needs to be based in school and include fictional characters. Remember to use lots of detail and description.

Then, for tomorrow, you are going to be writing your story and then editing it.